FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE December 21, 2016

AEROSEAL PARTNERS WITH ELECTRIC & GAS INDUSTRIES ASSOCIATION

Alliance with EGIA offers building contractors easy, affordable tools and training for success in today's evolving business environment.

Aeroseal and the non-profit Electric & Gas Industries Association (EGIA) today announced a partnership that will provide building contractors with easy access to tools and business training essential for business success. Under the partnership, Aeroseal contractors will receive a discount on EGIA membership and EGIA member contractors will receive discounts on the purchase of Aeroseal duct sealing systems. In addition, both Aeroseal and EGIA will actively participate in each other organization's key events including conferences, webinars and workshops.

As part of the partnership, membership discounts and other benefits will also be extended between EGIA and members of Comfort Institute (CI), an expert training organization for home and duct performance. Among other shared benefits, EGIA members will be offered Comfort Institute regional training classes and Aeroseal/ Comfort Institute contractors will have access to in-depth business operational training delivered through EGIA's Contractor University.

"As a non-profit organization, we are able to offer a uniquely affordable and value-packed training program that provides building contractors with the business skills needed to meet the challenges of a changing industry," said Bruce Matulich, CEO & Executive Director of EGIA. "Add to this, the home performance best practice training provided by Comfort Institute, and contractors have a real roadmap to success."

"This partnership represents a real opportunity for building contractors looking for competitive advantages," said Bryan Barnes, Aeroseal's senior director of business development. "In a business environment where old strategies are no longer enough, the Aeroseal / Comfort Institute / EGIA alliance holds the key to success. From technology discounts to business management training to energy efficiency education, the shared benefits of these organizations hold the key to business security and growth in the years ahead."

ABOUT AEROSEAL

Aeroseal is the sole owner and licensee of Aeroseal duct sealing technology and Aerobarrier envelope sealing technology, innovations that are changing the way residential and commercial contractors meet building code requirements and improve building performance including energy savings, improved indoor air quality, and comfort. Aeroseal has a network of over 700 contractors worldwide offering services in the Americas, Europe, Asia and Australia. Aeroseal is also the parent company of Comfort Institute, a leading organization focused on training and supporting contractors in home performance best practices. Learn more about Aeroseal at www.aeroseal.com.

ABOUT EGIA

EGIA is a nonprofit organization that empowers energy efficiency and renewable energy contractors to get the most out of their businesses through industry-leading training, financing and marketplace solutions. EGIA Contractor University offers access to the industry's most recognized trainers, who deliver innovative keys to success through in-person workshops, conferences and webinars. GEOSmart Financing Clearinghouse, which has facilitated financing for 200,000+ residential and business projects valued at over $2 billion, provides contractors with a best-in-class suite of financing options. EGIA Contractor Marketplace brings together some of the most in-demand vendors and products in the industry at exclusive pricing. Learn more about EGIA at www.egia.org.